

JENNINGS BATH

The Jennings bath is a reproduction of a late 19th Century English embossed cast iron bath with a luxurious wooden roll. The bath was originally manufactured by George Jennings, one of the finest sanitary engineers of his time. The bath is cast in England from recycled brake discs and is available with a painted, polished & lacquered or patinated exterior finish. The taps may be mounted on the roll or on standpipes behind the bath; the roll is also available in a white enamel finish.
